BARRON'S SAFETY LAMPS,

LIG-RO-INE (Red) FLUID.
PATENTED. without any
 T HIS Lamp apparently has, however, a material which absorbs the liquid and gives it to the flame, partly from the wick, and partly from the gas, but so as to produce perfect combustion, and is very economical and safe.
 It is used without a chimney, and perfectly trimmed, does not smoke or smell; it is therefore especially adapted to the purposes of a "trunk about," night, nurse, shop or hotel lamp, or lantern. The cost of broken chimneys, alone, will more than pay the cost of this lamp. Every family needs one or more.
 "It is just what I have been long looking for," writes a model house-keeper.
 "I should hardly know how to do without it," writes another.
 "A perfect contrivance," writes a third.
 "Let those who are skeptical try it," writes a fourth.

CATARH

CURED FOR ONE DOLLAR.
 READ!—For one dollar per mail. I will send free to any address a recipe and medicine that I will guarantee to cure the worst cases of Catarrh in the head or bronchial tubes in a few weeks. It has saved my life, and made me a well man, from Catarrh and a severe cold, and a nervous headache, which I had suffered with for years. I tried the best physicians, and all the advertised medicines of the day, but found no relief till I obtained this. I would give one hundred dollars for this recipe and the medicine, if I now had the Catarrh and could not obtain it less. I believe, if instructions are followed, it will cure any case whatever, that has not been treated by the lungs and become a settled consumption. Cure it while you can. Address

NEW SKIRT FOR 1866.

HOOP SKIRTS.
 J. W. BRADLEY'S New Patent DUPLEX ELLIPTIC (or double) SPRING SKIRT.
 THIS Invention consists of Duplex (or two) Elliptic Pure Refined Steel Springs, ingeniously braided tightly and firmly to gether, edge to edge, making the toughest, most flexible, elastic and durable Spring ever used. They seldom bend or break, like the Single Springs, and consequently preserve their perfect and beautiful Shape more than twice as long as any Single Spring Skirt that ever has or can be made.
 The wonderful flexibility and great comfort and pleasure to any Lady wearing the Duplex Elliptic Skirt will be experienced particularly in all crowded Assemblies, Operas, Carriages, Railroad Cars, Church Pews, Arm Chairs, for Promenade and House Dress, as the Skirt can be folded when in use to occupy a small place as easily and conveniently as a Silk or Muslin Dress.
 A Lady having Enjoyed the Pleasure, Comfort and Great Convenience of wearing the Duplex Elliptic Steel Spring Skirt for a single day will never afterwards willingly dispense with their use. For Children, Misses and Young Ladies they are superior to all others.
 The Hoops are covered with 2 ply double twisted thread and will wear twice as long as the single yarn covering which is used on all Single Steel Hoop Skirts. The three bottom rods on every Skirt are also Double Steel and twice or double covered to prevent the covering from wearing off the rods when the Skirt is being put on or taken off, which they are constantly subject to when in use.
 All are made of the new and elegant Corded Tapes, and are the best quality in every part, giving to the wearer the most graceful and perfect Shape possible, and are unquestionably the lightest, most desirable comfortable and economical Skirt ever made.

Brigham Young in a Passion.
If we may judge from the tone of a speech recently delivered by Brigham Young, that "potentate" will hardly submit without a struggle to the innovations of the bill to regulate the mode of selecting jurors in Utah, and for other purposes, now before Congress. Hear what the old sinner says: "If they undertook to try him in a Gentile Court he would see the government in hell first and was ready to fight the government the rub. He had soldiers, and rifles and pistols, and ammunition, and plenty of it, and cannon too—and would use them. He was on it. The Governor of the Territory was useless, and could do nothing. He was the real Governor of this people, and by the power of the Most High he would be forever and ever. If the Gentiles didn't like this, they could leave and go to hell."

The details of the great fire in Portland, Maine, add to the immensity of the destruction. One half the city is destroyed, nearly all the business portion being included. All the banks, newspaper offices, jewelry establishments, dry goods stores and telegraph offices, eight churches, and other public buildings, and the majority of the business houses have been destroyed by this terrible visitation. Over fifty buildings were blown up in the hope of making a space between the fire and the other buildings, but the effort was useless. It is estimated that about two thousand buildings were destroyed, involving a loss of ten million dollars. Two thousand families were rendered homeless, losing nearly every valuable thing they possessed, and are now dependent on the generosity of those who were fortunate enough to escape the sweeping disaster. Two thousand tents for shelter to the homeless were forwarded by the United States authorities from Boston, and the people of that city are forwarding supplies of provisions and clothing. The total loss by the fire is thought to be fully ten millions of dollars. Our readers will regret to learn that Senator Fessenden losses very heavily by the fire.

Mons. Auguste Buislay, a gymnast, went up in a balloon from New York on Wednesday afternoon, and performed some very difficult feats upon a trapeze pendant therefrom. When six or seven thousand feet in the air he was overtaken by a rain storm, the balloon becoming wet and heavy, began to descend. When over the Hudson river, and sixty feet in the air, the balloonist sprang from his airship into the river, fearing to get entangled if both came down together. He swam for the New York Shore, and was finally picked up, when nearly exhausted, by a small boat which had put out for his relief.

A terrible accident occurred at Lafayette, Ohio, on the 2d instant. Mrs. Christopher Martin, in order to start a fire in her cooking stove, applied a coal oil lamp which was burning, but from which the chimney had been removed. The result was an explosion of the lamp, setting her clothes on fire, and burning her body so badly that she died in a short time. Her husband was also severely burned to attempting to save her. Mr. Martin seems to have been born to ill luck. Two years ago, while riding out with the daughter of Rev. S. S. Serwies, his horses ran away, and throwing Miss S. upon the hard pike, killed her instantly.

One of the most fearful tornadoes that ever visited St. Paul, Minnesota, swept over the city last week, lasting about three-quarters of an hour. A number of buildings were injured, and a Dr. Schell fatally hurt. At Howe's Consolidated Circus, which was in full blast when the storm came up, were gathered between two and three thousand persons, and the immense canvas was hurled upon the heads of the inmates, burying them all in one confused mass. No one was seriously injured, though a great consternation ensued.

The Lyon county (California) Sentinel remarks: Pelican eggs, from islands in Pyramid lake, where they are very abundant, are now in market, selling at the moderate price of six bits (12 cents) a dozen. This is very cheap, considering their size and quality; they contain as much nutriment as three hens' eggs, and are quite as palatable. Upon certain islands in Pyramid lake they are as plentiful and as easily obtained as the variegated, fishy-flavored fruit of the Farrallones.

A monument, in memory of the deceased soldiers of Path Valley, Franklin county, Pa., will be erected this summer, at Spring Run, in that county. It is to be 16 feet in height, and a Union flag and a sheathed sword will be carved at the top, being an emblem of peace. It is to cost $600.

A little daughter of William Reese of Harrisburg was burned to death on Friday last. The child, and several others, were playing in the yard burning paper and throwing it at each other when her clothes took fire, burning her so severely that she died in a few hours.

A Mechanic's Wife Falls Hair to Thirty-Five Millions.

The Richest Woman in America.
The Hartford Courant of the 28th publishes the following account of a financial transaction which, if true, is one of the greatest of the year: "The fickleness of fortune is well illustrated in the experience of a worthy family in this city, who have suddenly found themselves from that condition in society where people are said to live in 'moderate circumstances,' to the highest pinnacle of wealth. The facts are these: Mrs. Eli Walker, residing at No. 100 Maple avenue, (who is a machinist by trade) and her husband have resided here for a number of years, and have several children. It was reported some months ago that a large property, valued at $35,000,000, had fallen to Mrs. Walker's father, as a direct heir, and he being dead, that the whole amount belonged to her as his only child. Steps were at once taken to ascertain the truth of this report, and ex-Governor T. H. Seymour was employed to investigate. The result of his investigation is entirely favorable to Mrs. Walker, documents having been received which show beyond question that she will come in possession of this immense property, and she, together with her husband and children, will start for England next week to receive the golden egg."

It is said that upon a full settlement of all matters connected with this most extraordinary 'streak of Luck,' Mrs. Walker will return to Hartford and make her permanent residence here. Rumor hath it that she will erect upon some eligible site a magnificent mansion, following the style of the grand villas and castles of Merry England, which shall excel in grandeur the most costly American palaces.

Abuses of the Franking Privilege.
The Postmaster General sends a communication to Congress calling attention to abuses of the franking privilege, in the use of frank of members by claim agents, patent agents, &c. The Postmaster General says this abuse has become a serious evil, lessening considerably the postal revenues, and bringing reproach upon the department. The Postmaster General is powerless to arrest this evil while members of Congress permit their clerks or other persons to write their names upon envelopes, and use or permit the use of fac simile stamps, neither of which has the sanction of law. Cases are cited where a Senator intrusts all his franking to a niece, where patent agents send their circulars under frank of a member of Congress. Outside of this report we hear of an instance where it is charged that a member of Congress sells his frank. The report was referred to the House Committee on Post Offices and Post Roads.

SEIZURE OF A WHISKY DISTILLERY.
A few days ago a large whisky distillery was seized in New York, charged with defrauding the government. It is stated that about eight thousand gallons of whisky were found concealed in the building, all of which will probably be confiscated. The alleged proprietor of the establishment denied, when questioned by the officers before the seizure was made, that the premises were used for a distillery. A brief search, however, proved that the statement was untrue. All the liquor, which is valued at about sixteen thousand dollars, was ready for delivery. It is of a good quality, and was distilled from molasses. The revenue agent has discovered that a large number of wealthy capitalists have invested money in the manufacture of illicit whisky, owing to the vast profits arising from the business. They have employed parties to act as the nominal proprietors of their establishments, in order to shield themselves from the consequences of a prosecution for defrauding the revenue.

A PRUSSIAN MILITARY HOSPITAL.
Breslau, in Silesia, has been selected by the Prussian government as the site of an immense military hospital, which is to be erected forthwith. It is to be furnished with all the latest improvements, among which figures prominently a circular saw, driven by steam, by the aid of which damaged legs and arms are to be amputated in a jiffy. The Prussians evidently anticipate warm work.

Printers beat the Dutch, and everybody else but their wives. We have one in our office who preached the gospel, ran a side show circus, kept a singing school, ran away with a man's wife and two children, practiced medicine, been an agent for a concert troupe, and a clerk on a steamboat. He has now reformed, and settled down to a legitimate business—that of sticking type. We'll make a man of him yet.—Exchange Paper.

THE MYSTERIES OF HORSE STEALING.
—A Louisville paper says that in that State horse stealing is managed as follows: The owner of a horse makes a bargain with a thief to take the horse to Louisville or Baton Rouge, and sells him. The thief brings the owner half the money, and tells the name of the purchaser. Then the owner goes and recovers the horse as having been stolen.

The rebels who went to Mexico to enjoy that "independence" which they failed to win in the United States, are coming to rapid grief there. The Mexicans do not like their morals, and so are giving them notice to leave, giving the unpleasant alternative of leaving or hanging. These rebels seem not to have forgotten the habit they acquired here of appropriating other people's property to their own use.

The new style of head rigging for ladies—have you seen it? A colporteur thus describes it: It consists of two straps tied together on the top of the head with a blue ribbon in bow knot, and a red tassel hanging at each end of the straps. It is sweet, pretty, and costs only nineteen dollars.

Congress is increasing our Tariff duties so as to discourage the large exportations of gold to Europe and encourage American labor. The Democrats oppose the increase, and it is said in some quarters that the President will again exercise the veto on it.

New Orleans papers record the sale of the residence of Mr. Shepard Brown of that city. It was the most expensive dwelling in the city of New Orleans, having cost $75,000 in gold before the war. It sold for $45,000, currency.

Two Frenchmen recently explored the island of Spitzbergen in a manner never before done. They measured the mountains, mapped the whole coast, examined the vegetable products, the geological composition, &c., of the island, and found that the long day, extending over several months, during which the sun never sets, became intensely hot after a month or two.

THE GROVESTEIN PIANO FORTE still retains its pre-eminence and great popularity, and after undergoing gradual improvements for a period of thirty years, is now pronounced by the musical world to be unsurpassed and unequalled in richness, volume, and purity of tone, durability and cheapness. Our new scale, French action, harp pedal, iron frame, over-strung bass, seven octave, rosewood pianos are so self-evident from 100 to $200 than the same style and finish are sold by any other first-class makers in the country. Disastrous Fire at Portland, Maine.

One Half the City Destroyed—Fifty Buildings Blown Up to Check the Conflagration.

PORTLAND, ME., July 5.—A most disastrous fire occurred here last evening, which completely swept through the city from the foot of High street to North street, destroying everything in its trace so completely that the line of the streets can hardly be traced, and a space of one and a half miles long by a quarter of a mile wide appears like a forest of chimneys, with fragments of walls attached to them. The wind was blowing a gale from the south and a tremendous sheet of flame swept along before it, devouring everything in its progress.

PORTLAND, July 5.—Many buildings, perhaps fifty, were blown up to check the flames. The custom-house, being fire proof, escaped, though greatly damaged. The court records in the upper story are probably destroyed.

The splendid city and county building on Congress street, although nearly fire-proof, was swept away with all its contents. Half the city is destroyed, and that half including nearly all the business portion, excepting the heavy business in Commercial street.

PORTLAND, July 5.—All the banks and newspaper offices are burned, and but three printing offices are left. The jewelry establishments are also burned.

The fire caught in a building above the sugar-house, on Commercial street, and swept northerly through that street into the wooden buildings between Centre and Cross streets, consuming everything. J. B. Brown & Sons lost $800,000 to $700,000; insured for $300,000. Staples & Son's machine shop and N. P. Richardson & Co's stove foundry is completely destroyed.

FURTHER PARTICULARS.

PORTLAND, July 5.—The fire is still raging below Cumberland street, and is making back to the westward, the wind having changed.

Capt. Inman has telegraphed for 1,500 tents, to accommodate the homeless inhabitants. It is almost impossible to tell where the people lived, the destruction is so complete.

The store of Messrs Emory & Waterhouse, hardware dealers, on Middle street, was singularly passed by the sea of flame and left unscathed, though everything was swept on each side.

The Portland Society of Natural History lost their valuable collection.

It is estimated that about 2,000 buildings are burned, and the property destroyed valued at $10,000,000, probably insured for about half the amount. The State valuation was $28,000,000, and the real valuation must, therefore, be over $8,000,000, full one third of which must have been destroyed. Nothing can be done in the city to day except to take care of the homeless, and that is actively being done. The firemen from abroad worked nobly. The churches and many other edifices have been thrown open for the homeless, and committees have been appointed to relieve the distressed.

For some hours communication was cut off between the front and rear of the city, except by over a mile journey around. The flames are still troublesome in some quarters, and are working down into the neighborhood of the custom house lately. Almost all the hose and engines in the city are used up.

Messrs. John B. Brown & Sons lose at least $1,000,000; insured for about one half.

NEW YORK, July 5.—Adams Express Company are taking subscriptions here for the Portland sufferers, to be forwarded free of charge.

A TAX RIDDEN CITY.—The Atlanta (Ga.) Intelligencer prints a tax ordinance passed by the City Council of that place for the support of the municipal government. In addition to the Federal, State and county taxes imposed, are the following: Sixty-five cents on the hundred value of every house, lot, building or piece of ground; twenty dollars on every incorporate association; one half of one per cent on all capital stock; six per cent on all sales, wholesale and retail; one fourth of one per cent on all sales by resident agents by the sample; ten dollars on every lawyer and physician; twenty dollars on every artist; one per cent on gross receipts of telegraph and express companies; three dollars on every carriage; one hundred dollars on every billiard table; one half of one per cent on receipts of all stable keepers and warehouse men; and two hundred dollars for each circus exhibition.

THE COST OF LIVING.—General Hooker was recently looking for a residence in New York city. After some search he found a dwelling for rent, which he thought would probably accommodate his wants. Upon inquiry concerning the rental, the agent named the cheerful little sum of nine thousand dollars a year! The General was curious to know how much more it would require to pay the necessary living expenses in this nine thousand dollar house; and was informed that if he lived modestly and did not "entertain," he might confine the sum within eighteen thousand a year, or twenty-seven thousand in all.

The General did not rent the house.

Brigadier General Adams, Captain Van Pelt and Captain Jenks, all of the Union army, who have been cultivating a plantation on the Mississippi river, were recently attacked in their beds by a band of ruffians, and robbed of a large amount of money and many valuables. Others of the band in the meantime busied themselves in killing the stock in the barn, which being discovered by the negroes on the plantation a fight ensued, in which five of the negroes were killed. The robbers succeeded in burning the out-buildings, including the cotton gin and engines.

At a fancy dress ball in Paris recently, a lady was seen in a very low-bodied dress, while floating in a wavy abundance of green gauze. She was politely asked by a gentleman what she represented. "The sea, Monsieur." "At low tide, then, Madame." The lady blushed, and the gentleman smiled.

A PREVENTIVE OF THE CHOLERA.—The habitual use of onions as an article of food is said to be almost certain protection from cholera, even when in immediate contact with it.

There was no public demonstration here on the Fourth, but there were pic-nic parties without number, spending the day in the country—much to the satisfaction of those engaged in the holiday pastime. One of the most interesting episodes of the day was a heavy shower of rain which came up in the afternoon, and gave the pic-nickers over the country a nice shower-bath, which was not laid down in the original programme. To us outsiders, who remained at home trying to keep cool under our vines and fig-trees, it was a little amusing to see the interesting condition of those who were spending the day in the woods. The affair, however, added much to the merriment of the occasion, and "nobody was hurt."

Hot Weather.

During the five or six days past, the heat has been very great—ranging every day above the 90's. It has been splendid harvest weather, however, and the crops are being gathered in very fine order. They are turning out much better than was calculated on a short time ago.

Our city fathers are engaged in grading Breckenridge street, and the property owners are making great improvements in the side walks. It will be, in time, quite a pretty street.

During the Fourth all places of business in Gettysburg were closed, and our streets presented a Sabbath day's quiet, all who could go to the country having embraced the opportunity of rustication for the day.

The dwelling-house of Francis Lee, on Wolf Hill, was entered on Sunday week, whilst the family were at Church, and a considerable amount of Government bonds and money stolen therefrom.

There were 3,390 shingles worked up out of a tree on the farm of Mr. Heintzelman, not 3,300, as the types made it last week.

The members of the German Reformed Church at New Oxford, presented their pastor, Rev. W. F. P. Davis, with a handsome present last week—a beautiful new buggy and harness.

NEW METHOD OF CALCULATION.

Prof. J. B. Andrews, of Philadelphia, is visiting our town for the purpose of teaching his new, short and simple Methods of Calculation, including short methods of Addition, Subtraction, Multiplication, and Division, and their application to Interest, Percentage, Discount, Banking and Partial Payments.

We have been instructed in Prof. Andrews' concise and beautiful Methods of Calculation, and unhesitatingly pronounce them superior to anything of the kind we have heretofore examined. We take great pleasure, therefore, in recommending him to any who may need his professional services.

We are authorized to say that the Professor gives instruction to Ladies and Teachers at a reduced fee, and to wounded soldiers, free of charge. His rooms are at Mrs. Ziesler's, on Middle street, where he may be found at any time when not professionally engaged.

The Sabbath School of the M. E. Church spent the Fourth in a pic-nic at Hendrick's woods, about two miles this side of Hanover. It was under the direction of our very worthy citizen, J. L. Senner, Superintendent of the Sabbath School, who, by the way, is one of the best "superintendents" of a children's gathering we have ever seen, as we were eye-witnesses to a week or two ago. The affair passed off well, much to the satisfaction of all concerned; and one advantage they had, too, over other pic-nics, they had cars switched off which sheltered them from the storm.

NEW OXFORD.

This thriving village is all going ahead, and many improvements are in progress. Quite a number of new buildings are being erected, and in contemplation—among them mention the names of Mr. J. L. Gitt, George Sherman, John Byers, Mr. Herah, Peter Feiser, Wm. D. Himes, Mr. Stock, A. F. Gitt, Mr. Barnitz, Mr. Beck, Mr. Zuck, and others. There are now in the village, which numbers a population of about 400 only, five dry goods stores, two hotels, four churches, a high school, a job printing office, two smith shops, four carpenter shops, two warehouses, two machine shops, two shoe shops, painters, and business of almost every kind being carried on, three physicians, surgeons, &c. &c. There are also in the neighborhood several flouring mills. The village is situated in the midst of a rich agricultural country, and has around it every element of prosperity.

Ever Green Cemetery.

The new Board of Managers met on the evening of the 2d, and organized. Alexander Cobean was appointed Treasurer, and Wm. B. Meals, Secretary. The following gentlemen constitute the Board:

President—J. L. Schick.
Managers—John Rupp, Wm. B. Meals, Geo. Little, Andrew Polley, Alexander Cobean, Geo. Spangler, Josiah Benner.

The report of the Treasurer has been published, giving a statement of its business in the past year. From this it appears that the receipts from all sources were $680.82. Various improvements were made during the year, as well as nearly $200 of debt liquidated. The funded debt of the Cemetery is $1,533.75.

Gettysburg.—A Poem.

On our first page we give a Poem on the great battle of Gettysburg, which we copy from the "Lutheran and Missionary," a very ably conducted religious weekly, edited by Rev. C. P. Krauth, D. D., of Philadelphia. This talented Editor remarks:—"We give our readers in this number a noble poem, which will be in their hands as a preparation for the anniversary of the most memorable battle of the late fearful war. We have read no descriptive poem called forth by the war, which we consider equal to this. It is history chronicled in the spirit of genuine poetry, and will be widely read, and preserved for re-perusal."

Pennsylvania College.

The Commencement Exercises of Pennsylvania College will be held during the second week in August, as follows: The Baccalaureate Address will be delivered on Sunday, August 5th, by Rev. Dr. Baughner, President of the Institution; on the morning of the 8th the Junior Exhibition will be held, and in the afternoon of the same day Rev. Dr. C. P. Krauth, Jr., will deliver the Baccalaureate Address before the Philomathean Society, and on the evening of the 8th the Address before the Alumni of the College will be delivered by Rev. Victor L. Conrad. The exercises of the Graduating Class will take place on the 9th. A Concert by the Lancaster Orchestra will be given on the evening.

Barn Burnt.

Before daylight on the morning of the 4th of July, the Barn of Rev. Joseph Sherfy, on the Emmitsburg road, two miles from this place, was discovered to be on fire. The attention of the family was directed to getting out the horses and cattle, which was accomplished, but with much difficulty—Raphael Sherfy sustaining some injury from the intense heat. The barn was totally destroyed, with agricultural implements and harness. The loss we suppose to be fully $1,500, which Mr. Sherfy is illly able to bear. During the battle a good barn was burnt for him on the same spot, and the one destroyed on Wednesday morning had been but a year erected. How the fire originated is unknown, but it is supposed that a party had gone into the barn for the purpose of stealing chickens, and that in starting a light with a match the barn accidentally caught. We cannot think that it was done by design, as Mr. Sherfy is one of the most inoffensive citizens. There was no insurance, Mr. S. desiring it until he should have the means to spare for the purpose. He has the sympathies of the entire community.—COMPIER.

Fire.

On Tuesday morning, the dwelling of Mrs. Jacob Peffer, in Petersburg, was injured by fire to the extent of about $700—but which is covered by insurance in the Adams County Company.

Accident at New Oxford.

On the Fourth, a small boy, son of Mr. Abraham Sheely, of New Oxford, met with quite a severe and painful accident. He and a number of other boys were celebrating the day by firing pistols, shooting crackers, &c., and whilst in the act of cocking a pistol, the hammer slipped, firing the load, which carried away the flesh of the index finger of the left hand, and severely burning the hand with powder. The wound was dressed by Dr. W. J. McClure, of that place, and is doing as well as could be expected.

Our up-street neighbor, the COMPIER, is trying very hard to kick off his new ally, Wendell Phillips—by remarking that he does not surt there. That paper surely knows that Wendell Phillips and the Democracy are cheek-by-jowl against the Amendments, and he is very urgent upon them to unite in their defeat. This looks very much like sailing in the same boat." As to our course, we never travelled his wild, erratic road, are not now, and don't suppose we ever will. You are answered, Mr. Complier.

The SENTINEL "still has Geary's name at the mast-head, and advocates his election," says the COMPIER. Certainly we have, and will keep it floating there, until that gallant hero of sixty battles is triumphant at the October election, and Hiester Clymer, a man who never aided in any way to cheer on the soldiers, and crush the vile rebellion. Are you satisfied?

Murderous Assault.

On Saturday evening week, between 10 and 11 o'clock, Messrs. John M. Good and Isaac Holly were on their way home from the Mt. Holly Paper Mill, and about 300 yards south of the Hotel they were assaulted by two ruffians, armed with blisks, knocked down, their pockets rifled, and they left lying insensible in the road. Both of them are injured considerably. Mr. Bear, it is thought, seriously.

Andrew J. Fulton, of York, was, a short time ago, appointed Assessor of Internal Revenue for our adjoining Congressional District, in the room of Horace Bonham, removed. The Senate of the United States, however, rejected the nomination on Saturday week; and Mr. Bonham still holds on until further orders.

Benjamin R. Rhett, a well known cotton planter, of South Carolina, was shot on Tuesday last, while going to his plantation near Charleston. He received two balls and died in twenty minutes. The murderer is not known, but supposed to be a negro who had expressed strong animosity against the family.

Wm. McAllister, Charles S. Harkness and Charles H. Foulke, were arrested last week at Carlisle, on the charge of being the perpetrators of a number of the incendiarisms which have kept the people of that town in constant terror for nearly a year past.

In the new Internal Revenue bill, which has passed, tailors, milliners, shoemakers, &c., are to be exempt from tax, when their work, exclusive of materials, does not exceed $1000 annually. The tax on ready-made clothing is fixed at two per cent.

Chief Justice Bowie, of Maryland, has decided that the Civil Rights bill is constitutional, and it being the supreme law of the land, supercedes and makes null and void the laws of the State relative to the admissibility of the testimony of colored witnesses in courts of law, declaring their right to testify in all cases.

Senator Jim Lane, of Kansas, attempted to kill himself a few days ago by shooting. He did not succeed, however, and it is thought he will recover. He is a wild, reckless man, which accounts somewhat for his late insane act.

The indications are that the House of Representatives will adopt the report of the Election Committee, giving the seat in this Congressional district to Gen. Koonz, Union, in place of Gen. Coffroth, Dem.

A Contrast.

During the struggle for National life against the efforts of the traitors of the South to disrupt the Union and destroy the Government, John W. Geary and Hiester Clymer occupied important public positions. Gen. Geary was a soldier in the field, periling his life every day in encounter with rebellion. Before that rebellion was precipitated, Geary had done good service as a soldier in Mexico. In the Mexican and the war to crush rebellion, he fought in SIXTY BATTLES, sixty of the fiercest encounters in which American armies ever engaged. In addition to this, he lost his son in the struggle for the Union!

Now, what did Hiester Clymer do during the war for the Union? He was in public position during all that struggle. He had a place of honor and trust where he was not asked to peril his life. He knew nothing of the dangers of the conflict. During all these four years of war, while Hiester Clymer was a State Senator, HE NEVER SPOKE A WORD OR CAST A VOTE IN AID OF THE GOVERNMENT OR ENCOURAGEMENT OF ITS DEFENDERS. He refused to acknowledge the glory shed on the Government by the victory of our arms. He denied the rights most sacred to freedom, the elective franchise to the heroes of the war!

This is a contrast worthy the serious consideration of both civilians and soldiers. It shows what Geary and Clymer did during the war.—Harrisburg Tel.

State Bank Circulation.

The Senate amendment to the tax bill of the House of Representatives, extending the time for the circulation of State bank notes till the First day of August next, having been concurred in by the House, there will be no penalty on the banks for paying it out during the month of July.—After August 1, probably most of such paper will be redeemed, by arrangement, at par, in Philadelphia, which will then be equivalent to putting it on the same footing with National notes.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

Robbed by Gipsies.

On Friday week Mr. Jacob Myerly, living on the Littlestown road, a few miles above Westminster, Md., was robbed by some gipsies who were staying in his neighborhood, of $170 in money and some clothing, amounting in all to about $200. He followed them to Hanover, Pa., where he succeeded in recovering nearly all the money and property, and arrested two persons, a man and woman, who are now in jail at York, Pa., awaiting the requisition of the Governor of Maryland to be brought to Westminster for trial. They admitted the theft.

The Lost Found.

The little boy Samuel Bellman, who we noticed in our last, as having run away from his grandmother, Mrs. Bennett, with whom he was living, in this place, has been heard from. Although only eleven years old, and without any money, he went to his grandfather, Mr. Bellman, residing in Virginia, several hundred miles distant—quite an undertaking for one so young.—Mechanics-town Journal.

At the celebration on Wednesday at Philadelphia, Major General Meade was presented, by the Union League of that city, with a gold medal. The medal is composed of the finest gold, and weighs one pound and a half. On the obverse side is a finely executed head of the hero of Gettysburg. Surrounding the head is inscribed in Roman letters, "July 4, 1866. To Major General Meade, by the Union League of Philadelphia, as a token of the gratitude of his countrymen." On the reverse side is an elaborate artistic design, surrounded with the words: "The victor of Gettysburg, the deliverer of our State, the faithful soldier of our country."

Maj. Gen. Crawford has forwarded to the War Department the names of a number of the officers of the Penna. Reserves, whom he has strongly urged for honorary promotion. This is a just recognition of the claims of those deserving officers. The famous division to which they belonged owed much of its distinction to the greatness of their ability and valor; and their late commanding general officer quickly appreciates military fidelity and skill.—The general love for the Reserves is very ardent, nor is it to be wondered at, for their fame and his are inseparable.

In 1850, Oregon elected Baker, Republican, and Nesmith, Union Democrat, to the Senate; but Nesmith gradually relapsed into the embrace of the Democracy, and now votes just as Jeff. Davis would vote if he were a Senator. The recent election in Oregon involved the issue of Nesmith's re-election, and the Republicans have carried both branches of the legislature, thus giving him notice to retire. A true Union man will take his place on the 4th of March next. Well done for Oregon.

The prospects for a famine in the Western States are poor. The Cincinnati Gazette says that in Indiana the wheat is not good, but the corn is wonderfully fine. Thousands of bushels of potatoes have been planted and are doing well. Oats—a fair crop. In Illinois wheat (spring) is excellent; corn splendid; fruit an average crop; and farmers are in fine spirits. There is no danger of a scarcity if the weather continues favorable. The hay prospect is fair.

Flag Presentation.

On the 4th of July, Philadelphia presented a splendid scene, on the occasion of presenting to the Governor the tattered flags which had been carried through the battles of the war by the gallant sons of Pennsylvania. The military display was greater than ever known, and everything passed off in the most splendid manner. At least, half a million of people, it is estimated, were on the streets. One of the most interesting features on the occasion—was the presence of a very large number of the Orphan children of soldiers, who had been collected from the different Asylums in the State.—The presentation of the flags was made by Maj. Gen. Meade, the hero of Gettysburg, who commanded the glorious Army of the Potomac at the eventful three days fight here. He was replied to by Governor Curtin in the usual eloquent manner of that gentleman and patriot. The following are the beautiful remarks of Gen. Meade at the presentation:

Major General Meade, mounting a chair, spoke amid hearty cheers, as follows:—At the request of the brave and noble men I led on the field of battle, representing our beloved State of Pennsylvania, I am here upon this occasion to present to you, sir, the honored Magistrate of the Commonwealth, these blood stained banners, which for four years were carried by these noble men against the battle showers, and in the face of the enemy.

Sir, of all the honors which have been showered upon me for the humble services which it has been in my power to render to my country, none has been so gratifying, of none am I so proud as of being, on this occasion, the representative of these brave and noble men who stand before you.

Sir, in the dark hours of 1861, when treason and rebellion lifted their impious hands against the National life, and the people of eleven States of this blessed nation—forgetful of the memories and associations which have bound us together for three fourths of a century, had made us a happy and great people—blinded by passion and refusing to appeal to the dictates of reason, raised its threatening arm against the Government of our country; at that time, when you were then, as now, the Chief Magistrate of this Commonwealth, Pennsylvania was the first State to fly to the rescue of our country and to send her sons into the field.

Sir, in that procession which to-day has passed through our streets, at the head of the column were the representatives of those men who were the very first to run to the rescue of our country. From that day to the close of the war, Pennsylvania was ever prompt and willing to send her men to the field. More than three hundred thousand soldiers carried the battle flag of Pennsylvania on almost every battle field. When the propositions to which this war was growing became evident, you, sir, with a sagacity highly honorable, designed a banner which should be presented to all the Pennsylvania regiments in the armies of the United States. These flags, sir, were presented by you on many occasions, in person, to these regiments.

I have often heard your fervent and eloquent appeals to the soldiers; to their patriotism, and inculcating a strict attention to their duties. I heartily say, sir, on this occasion with great pleasure, what I have said on many previous ones, that such credit is rightfully due to you. Sir, these soldiers of Pennsylvania for four years have carried these banners with honor to themselves and to their native State. I will not attempt here to recount the deeds of the soldiers of Pennsylvania. To do so, sir, would be to write the history of this war; for, with very few exceptions, there has not been a battle fought throughout our land where there has not been a representative from the great State of Pennsylvania.

There is not a State over which the war raged that does not hold in its bosom the honorable and sacred name of the heroes of Pennsylvania who have fallen. I do claim to-day that the soldiers of Pennsylvania faithfully and nobly did their duty, and while we claim no pre-eminence over the soldiers from sister States, we cannot acknowledge that we are excelled by any I will claim on behalf of the soldiers of Pennsylvania, that on the roll of honor, whether among the immortal dead or among the living, the names of the officers and soldiers of Pennsylvania justly stand most high as the representatives of the entire State.

Sir, the work is over. Peace has returned to bless our happy land. By this current action of the Legislature it has been determined that you should receive on this day, sacred to the memory of liberty, these battle stained banners, which have passed through such a fiery ordeal. Sir, in the name of the soldiers of Pennsylvania, proud of their deeds, and conscious of the gratitude to which they are entitled, I present to you these banners, to receive them for the State. They were borne for four years of bloody war with honor and credit, and we ask you, as the Chief Magistrate of the State, to acknowledge these flags. Receive them, sir, as the mementos of prowess and deeds of valor of the noble men of Pennsylvania. Place them in some conspicuous position in our National Capital, where our children may see what their fathers did in the war for the Union; to show future traitors the doom they will receive should they dare to lift their hand against their country.

Now, sir, I would close by praying the Great Giver of All Good that He would bless this great country, upon whom He has been pleased to allow peace to be settled, and that never again may it be necessary for the sons of Pennsylvania to take up arms against those who are their brothers, to put down traitors and a treasonable war; but that God will please to bless our whole country, leading the minds of all back to those days of unity and peace, with the proud associations they carry with them.

In closing, General Meade presented to Governor Curtin the standard of the Eighty-second Pennsylvania, as the representative of the others. After a short interruption, caused by relieving the wearied color-bearers of their standards, and gathering them upon the platform, Gov. Curtin made a most eloquent reply, for which we have not room to-day.

A Bouquet to Gen. Geary.

Along the entire line of the procession at Philadelphia General Geary was greeted with prolonged cheers, waving of handkerchiefs, &c. On Arch street a number of little girls wended their way through the vast crowd, and approaching the General, one of their number, little Miss Kate Elliott, aged about six years, presented the General with a bouquet, on the wrapper of which was inscribed the following:

"From my father's grave."

KATE ELLIOTT

TO GENERAL J. W. GEARY."

Little Kate's father (Captain Thomas Elliott) was assistant adjutant general on General Geary's staff. He was killed near Atlanta, Ga., by the rebels, while in the discharge of his duties in action in that place. The Captain was looked upon by the General with as much affection as he bestowed upon his own son, one of the gallant brave who died defending his Country's honor. The two now rest mourned by all who knew them.

Valiant.

A few days since, a mob composed of copperhead thug jumpers, deserters, &c., who had formed themselves into a "soldiers' club for the support of Clymer, surrounded the office of the True Democrat, of York, Pa., for the purpose of punishing the publisher, Mr. Hiram Young. A few thorough Union men hastened to the defense of Mr. Young, and the valiant Clymerites took to their heels. The cause of this cowardly assault was that the True Democrat fearlessly denounced these deserters, &c., as bogus soldiers.

The appearance of Maj. Gen. Geary in the line of procession at Philadelphia elicited the most unbounded enthusiasm. He rode at the head of the veterans who had in charge the State flags. His presence was the signal of the most uproarious cheering all along the line of procession. At many points the crowds of soldiers and citizens who surrounded the hero stopped the procession of the march. At Sixth and Chestnut streets, the General could scarcely keep his saddle, so closely was he besieged by hands which had carried rifles and muskets where he led in the fray to crush rebellion.

Altogether, it was a grand spectacle.

Death of the "Oldest Inhabitant."

One of our exchanges announces that on Friday week before last, Mr. Barard Eisenbuth died at New Castle, Schuylkill county, aged over one hundred and eleven years. He was probably the oldest man in Pennsylvania. He was baptized on the 10th of May, 1755, in the old Lutheran Church at Lebanon. His age at this time is not known, but he was probably an infant. During the Revolutionary war, he was left at home to take care of the family, while his father, who was Captain of riflemen under General Anthony Wayne, was in the army. It is supposed that Captain Eisenbuth was killed, as he never returned. Mr. Eisenbuth afterwards removed to Berks county, where he married Catharine Saylor. She was born in Philadelphia. They had 10 children—5 of whom are still living. The early history of the family is not known as the house of Mr. Eisenbuth was destroyed by fire in 1806, and the family records, &c., were consumed. His wife died in 1848 aged 93 years.

Mr. Eisenbuth leaves 5 children, 41 grand children, 63 great grand children, and 7 great great grand-children—116 living descendants. Probably as many more have died. He was sick only five weeks, apparently suffering from nothing but weakness and retained his consciousness to the last dying days as though falling to sleep. In his younger days he was a powerful man. He was about six feet in height, rambored and heavily built, with light brown hair, light complexion and blue eyes. He was a farmer and lumberman, and at the age of 103 years worked in the harvest field with apparent ease. He was always "early to bed and early to rise," being up at day light every morning.

A horse recently jumped over the rail at a race course and seriously hurt a young man. While he was lying on the grass, another young man uttered a piercing cry, and exclaimed, "My brother, my poor brother!" He flung himself on the prostrate form, from which he was at length kindly and gently raised, while the injured man was taken away to receive medical care. It afterwards transpired that the affectionate creature who flung himself on the body of his brother, had done so to steal his gold watch and chain, and portmanteau.

CANADIAN PATRIOTISM.—It is announced that during the recent Fenian invasion of Canada, the English residents who happened to possess red noses, patriotically avoided wearing green spectacles, for fear it might be said they were in favor of raising "the green above the red."

Mr. James Shem, a rich old bachelor of St. Louis, died recently, leaving the bequest of one hundred thousand dollars to the Hospital of the Sisters of Charity, in that city, in which institution, when poor and friendless, he had received medical care and nursing.

THE REVEREND CHILD-WHIPPER.—Mr. Lindsey, the clergyman at Medina, N. Y., who whipped his child to death because he would not say his prayers, and who was released on $10,000 bail, has again taken up his quarters in jail at Albion, to escape summary punishment at the hands of the infuriated people.

A telegraphic despatch in the San Francisco Bulletin reports that a party of fifty Chinamen from Virginia City, Nevada were attacked near the Owyhee river by about one hundred and fifty Indians, and forty-nine of the Chinamen were killed. The Indians stole several tons of horses and mules. They also stole a drove of sixty head of cattle, and killed and dried the meat in sight of the fort.

Frost in South Carolina.—AUGUSTA, July 4.—There was frost in Pickens district, South Carolina, last night.

Where the Negro Loves to Live.

Before the Emancipation proclamation was issued, the Democratic sympathizers with rebellion insisted that its practical working would be to fill our Northern cities and towns with a refuse population of idle negroes. Free the negroes, said the Democracy, and they will come North to compete with white laborers. Free the negroes, and they will glut the Northern labor market, reduce wages, provoke fearful riots, and burden every community as paupers. Now, what has been the actual result? Accounts from all parts of the South, as published in the shape of correspondence to Northern journals, or as printed in the local newspapers, show that the negroes who were forced to fly from plantations and seek refuge in out of the way localities, are returning to their homes and seeking employment from their old masters in seven cases out of ten. The reason of this is obvious. Home, be it ever so homely, has its charms. The South is the home of the negro. Its climate is as much adapted to his nature as water is for fish. He thrives best in the tropics.—Hence, instead of the Southern negro coming North, the time is not far distant when the Northern negro will go South. Let the spirit of treason be fully curbed and crushed out—let there be an assurance of social protection to the negro, a respect for his right of person and property, and the South will not merely become the home of the negro, but it will be ruled by the black man, in all that relates to its development, its growth in prosperity, and its true allegiance to the National Government.

General Geary.

General John W. Geary, the Union candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania, spent most of yesterday morning on the floor of the House of Representatives, actively advocating the passage of such a protective tariff as is urgently demanded by the imperious necessities of the country. He had a number of interviews with leading men, and made a most favorable impression.—General Geary has through life been a constant advocate of the protection of home labor. So-bankrupt, and is yearly repudiating her liabilities.—Where, therefore, can she get money to carry on a protracted war? Prussia is in no better condition than Austria. Both powers have resorted to an issue of paper money which must become, in the event of a protracted struggle, as worthless as the currency put in circulation by the traitors of the South. Napoleon's wasteful extravagance since he occupied the French throne, has not materially bettered the finances of his realm, or made them acuter than those of his Prussian and Austrian neighbors.
